Yale and Princeton Ready For Annual Contest

BIG FOOTBALL GAMES DUE BOTH EAST AND WEST

California Is Picked to Beat Washington in Clash Saturday

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Picking the plums out of the pot pie being something of a precarious business at best, it is nevertheless the sense of the meeting that tomorrow's important football games will produce these winners, namely and to-wit: Yale, Michigan, California, Chicago, Cornell, Syracuse, Notre Dame, Nebraska, Illinois, Penn State, Harvard, W. & J., and Stanford. If this be treason, make the most of it.

Yale, most certainly, is due. It can't go on forever losing big games behind good teams and the present outfit seems all of that in spite of its temporary collapse before Maryland last Saturday. The bull dog, with superior running attack, defense and player reserve, has the jump on Princeton in every department with the exception of punting and here Yale's advantage at the wings may even matters.

Take Your Choice

Michigan is rated among the best teams in the middle west, Wisconsin is not. The Wolverine, therefore, would seem to be in for a gallop if it wasn't for the fact that the injury to Uteritz is almost certain to hamper the team's efficiency. As it is, we think Michigan will do well to win by one touchdown or less.

The California-Washington and Chicago-Ohio State games almost defy a selection. The coast teams, for example, can show records of equal plausibility, but we like the Bears because of their sound defense as compared with that of Washington, which allowed 14 points to be scored by Montana, a team that finished a bad second to Gonzaga and Idaho. Chicago has been a bit more consistent than the Buckeyes and is selected for this reason, insufficient as it may be. There is really little to choose between the teams.

Favors Stanford

Iowa and Minnesota are a stand-off, the former having a better defense and the latter a superior attack. Notre Dame has no idle jest with Butler, which held Illinois to a 21 to 7 score, and Nebraska will do well to outscore Iowa State, one of the most dangerous of the western entries.

We like Stanford over Idaho, although there is little to choose between them in a record-for-

LISBON, Nov. 16.—The new Portuguese national government of Premier Machada was sworn in today.

Baby Girl, Born With Three Heads, Alive, May Survive

SHANGHAI, Nov. 16.—Word of one of the most unusual freaks of nature on record was received here today.

A baby girl has been born at Sulu, in the province of Chihli, with three heads.

The front and back heads of the unusual baby have eyebrows, mouths and noses, but only two ears, while the third head has only ears.

According to the report, the baby is still alive and the possibility exists it may survive.

SECRET CODE CHARGE IS DENIED

Colonel Forbes Declares He Knows Nothing About Mystery Postcard

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Absolute denial that he ever was a party to any secret code, evolved to transmit messages between those interested in the letting of government contracts for hospitals and supplies, was made by Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former director of the veterans' bureau today when he resumed the witness stand to defend himself against charges of graft and incompetency.

The accused director again branded Elias H. Mortimer, his erstwhile friend and chief accuser, who told the senatorial investigators two weeks ago of the fixing up of the code.

Makes Denial

General John F. O'Ryan, the committee counsel, produced a postcard alleged to have been sent to Mortimer by Charles Hurley, of the Hurley-Mason Construction company, a Pacific coast concern, interested in bidding on government contracts. This postcard bore the mysterious words, "McAdoo, pickles," etc., which according to Mortimer's testimony, was a part of the code arranged.

Forbes denied this morning he had ever seen the postcard and said the mysterious words on it meant nothing to him.

Economic Development of Coast Area Sought

PORTLAND, Nov. 16.—The Pacific foreign trade council opened its second day session here today with the conviction expressed among the 250 or more delegates that the region west of the Rockies holds within its grasp an unparalleled opportunity for creating new and greater economic relations with the rest of the world.

Unification of the foreign trade interests of the coast to clear the way for the solution of trade development problems is the big aim of the council.

RELEASE OF HERMAN ROTH IS ORDERED

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 16.—Release of Herman Roth, prominent New York and Los Angeles attorney, arrested for an alleged attempt to blackmail Barbara La Marr, film star, out of $20,000 was ordered tody by District Attorney Asa Keyes after Roth had been held incommunicado all night. Keyes announced he will ask for an indictment against Roth charging extortion when the county grand jury meets next Tuesday.

BATTLE FOR REPUBLICAN NOMINATION STARTS WITH JOHNSON ANNOUNCEMENT

California Senator Tosses Hat Into Ring Before President Coolidge; Number of Others Expected to Enter Contest

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The bars are down and the fight for the Republican presidential nomination in 1924 becomes general. This was the reaction of political Washington today to Senator Hiram Johnson's announcement of his candidacy, and his bold statement that he intends to contest for delegates wherever the opportunity offers.

The Californian's announcement has been expected for some time. One element of surprise apparently was that Senator Johnson should have tossed his hat in the ring before President Coolidge delivers his message to congress three weeks hence.

The prediction was heard on all sides in political quarters today that within thirty days there will be a half dozen, perhaps more, Republican aspirants follow the lead of the California senator and announce themselves either as active or passive candidates for the nomination next June. Johnson has blazed the trail.

No Headlong Rush

The United States senate alone harbors at least a half dozen aspirants who have been quietly biding their time since the death of President Harding, surveying the situation and waiting for some one to "start the ball rolling."

It is not expected there will be any headlong rush to make declarations. Political sagacity and caution dictate that it would be safer to defer action until President Coolidge has outlined his policy in his forthcoming message, meantime watching the general reaction of the country to the Johnson pronouncement. But there is no doubt that the beginning of the New Year will see the firing become general along the whole Republican front.

Expected Candidates

Friends of Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, expect to see his hat tossed into the ring before many more days. Senator Watson's position is understood to be that so long as President Coolidge was to be unopposed, he had no desire to "start things," but that if opposition developed he expected to become a part of it.

The supporters of ex-Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, who all but secured the nomination in Chicago in 1920, similarly expect him to get into the race now that the bars are down. Governor Lowden has steadfastly refused to become identified with either the Harding or Coolidge administrations. He was offered two cabinet posts by Harding and declined them both. Four weeks ago he declined the ambassadorship to Great Britain.

Pinchot to Contest

Pennsylvania may provide two candidates. Governor Gifford Pinchot, who has overlooked no opportunity to take issue with President Coolidge in the issues presented by the coal strike controversy and prohibition enforce-

Kiwanis Club Resumes Brief Business Talks

Dr. T. C. Young presided at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis club today in the absence of President L. L. Fergyson, who is attending the state convention of Kiwanis at Fresno. The meeting was held in Jensen's Egyptian Village.

Following the transaction of the regular routine business Dr. Young turned the meeting over to A. W. Perry, chairman of the program committee, who, in turn, introduced W. L. Truitt, who announced that, for the first time in several months, the club would resume its custom of five-minute speeches by some member of the club about his business.

Ray Bentley gave an interesting talk regarding lumber and its source.

R. F. Adams gave the preliminary plans of the annual dinner dance that is to be held Monday, November 26, at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse.

The speaker of the day was A. I. Stewart, general manager of the Sam Seelig Co., who chose for his subject "The Responsibilities of Citizenship."

ZEV OUT FOR COMPLETE REVENGE

Star Will Seek to Show In Memoriam's Victory Fluke of Season

By JONATHAN BROOKS
For International News Service

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 16.—Speaking of the Zev-In Memoriam match race scheduled for tomorrow, as everybody is speaking, there are some things to be said about the Kentucky colt which defeated Harry Sinclair's star two weeks ago. Sinclair and Sam Hildreth may get their revenge and snatch back Zev's crown tomorrow, but it cannot be said that In Memoriam's win over My Own and Zev was a fluke. In Memoriam is a good colt, even if he cannot repeat his win over the country's biggest money-winning thoroughbred.

Turfmen and race followers who asked "who is this In Memoriam?" when Wiedeman's colt defeated Zev, should be advised that In Memoriam is entitled to be considered as fast as anybody's horse. He is a son of McGee.

Varied Claims

If that means nothing, try this on your dope sheet: He is a half brother to Exterminator, greatest money-winning runner in the United States until Zev happened along. Worshippers of "Old Bones" are so numerous that if the bettors had stopped to figure his relationship to In Memoriam, the latter might even have been a favorite over Zev and My Own, instead of a long shot.

Backers of Zev claim the distance of a mile and a furlong will be more to his liking than the run of two weeks ago. Also the track may be faster. Kentuckians will string with In Memoriam, however. They figure the McGee colt can hang on to any pace Zev will set and still collar him before the finish, as he did two weeks ago.

Baptists Call Pastor to Assist Rev. Ford

The First Baptist church has grown so fast in the last four years that it has been found necessary to call an associate pastor to help Rev. Ernest E. Ford carry on the growing work. After several months of searching a call was extended to Rev. Charles H. Tilden, and he has accepted, and begins work with the local church on Sunday, November 18.

Mr. Tilden was born in Worcester, Mass., and, after graduating from the college and seminary of Colgate university, went to Assam, India, as an educational missionary. Because of poor health he was sent home in 1922, and because of the continued poor health of his wife, is unable to return.

Mr. Tilden will have charge of the educational work of the church and will help the pastor in the general work and the special work of the erection of the new church, for which plans are drawn. Mr. and Mrs. Tilden and their three boys will reside at 609 East Palmer.

Yes, the Germans Have Some Potatoes, But They Get Them Through Accident

Starving residents of Berlin raiding potato cart which has become disabled in street

Providence, so to speak, has come to the aid of these hungry Berlin folk shown above. The prohibitive price of what few potatoes and other foodstuffs are on sale in Berlin has deprived them of what food they might buy. But a decrepit wagon, loaded with potatoes, has "passed away" on one of the main street and the fortunate passersby are scrambling for the "spuds."

Takes Jurisdiction Over Motor Trucks to Harbor Points

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—Complete jurisdiction was assumed by the State Railroad Commission over motor truck carriers operating between Los Angeles city proper and Los Angeles harbor points in a decision rendered today. The commission held that such operations constitute a transportation service over public highways not entirely within the corporate limits of Los Angeles, and are entirely distinct from those of water carriers by whom the shipments, hauled by the motor carriers, are received or delivered at Los Angeles harbor.

SANITARIUM COST HALF MILLION

Additional Permit to Total $150,000 Is Taken Out by Institution

In order to cover the cost of the new structure as required by city ordinance, C. E. Kimlin, business manager of the Glendale sanitarium and hospital, this morning was granted a permit by the municipal building superintendent for $150,000 to be applied on the new hospital building being erected at 1509 East Wilson avenue.

The original permit was for $400,000, but over half a million has been expended already. It is thought that this additional permit will cover the entire cost.

The hospital building, which is being constructed under the supervision of the Seventh Day Adventists, will be ready for occupancy February 1, when the hospital and sanitarium will be moved to the new site from its present location on East Broadway.

BERLIN, Nov. 16.—In an effort to stabilize currency deflation, the government ceased printing paper marks. "Rente marks" are now being issued, backed by gold securities. Measures are under contemplation to prevent hoarding.

Widening of Central Ave. Starts Lively Clash at Hearing Before Council

The City Council chamber was filled last night with residents of Central avenue and adjacent streets to participate in the discussion incident to the hearing of the protests filed against the widening of Central avenue. Sentiment in the matter was divided. Some were in favor of the work being started as soon as possible, while others were against the move, stating that it was not necessary and was not desired by a majority of the property holders effected.

Following an argument which, at times, became rather heated, the City Council adjourned the hearing on the protest for four weeks, during which time the opposing factions will marshal their forces and come prepared to stage a pitched battle on that night.

Circulate Petition

After the City Council had posted their resolution of intention regarding this thoroughfare, those opposed to it circulated a petition protesting against it, but secured only the names of those who owned property on Central avenue itself. This petition, according to the city engineer, contained the names of 42.4 per cent of the property owners in the district. When this protest was filed with the city clerk, they were informed that, in addition to the owners on Central avenue, abutting property for one-half block each way on streets intersecting with Central avenue was also affected. They then circulated another petition, obtaining the names of a further 21 per cent of the property owners. This latter protest was not filed, however, within the thirty days allowed by law, so legally it could not be considered in the controversy. The circulators of the first protest claimed last night that, while it carried the names of only 42.4 per cent of all the owners, it represented 75 per cent of the frontage on Central avenue. During the discussion it was brought out that the exact amount of Central avenue property represented legally in the protest was 58 per cent.

Those in favor of the widening stated that many had signed the protest under a misapprehension, and without full knowledge of the character of the work to be undertaken and the time allowed for the payment. They did not accuse the circulators of the petition with wilful misrepresentation, but gave instances where some had

THIEVES RAID ON VALLEY TURKEYS

Scores of Birds Stolen in Last Few Days, Is Report to Sheriff

With Thanksgiving approaching and gobblers growing fat and market prices mounting, thefts of turkeys totaling in value thousands of dollars are being reported to the sheriff's office from the San Fernando valley.

Clyde Johnson of Lankershim lost fifty turkeys last night and seventeen the night before. Peter Eberhart, another rancher near Lankershim, reports the loss of 175 birds, stating that he saw the thieves fleeing in a truck with their prey.

Sleep with 'Em

A. C. Winger, well-known turkey raiser of Burbank, states he has had no turkeys stolen this year and gives as the reason why the fact that his turkey run is surrounded by a barbed wire entanglement that would be the despair of the average thief.

"I also recommend to my fellow turkey growers another stunt I employ—namely, sleeping with your turkeys, on a loaded shotgun!"

DECLINES TO TAKE PART IN ACTION OPPOSING GERMANY

Refuses to Aid in Plan to Impose Any Further Penalties, Edict

BULLETIN

LONDON, Nov. 16.—As a result of the strained Anglo-French relations, Great Britain is preparing to send a note hinting that the republic pay at least the interest on its debt to England, it was learned late today.

BULLETIN

ROME, Nov. 16.—Italy favors a reduction of both German reparations and inter-allied debts, Premier Benito Mussolini announced in the senate today. He added:

"Italy's view is that a moratorium should be granted to Germany; that adequate economic guarantees should be taken and then evacuation of the Ruhr should follow."

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Lord Crewe, British ambassador to France, today was instructed by London to inform the French government that Great Britain is opposed to any further sanctions (penalties) on Germany, either by occupation of territory or ports.

Great Britain does not wish to join in any action which would make a "haloed martyr" of the former crown prince, who has just returned to Germany from his place of exile in Holland.

The British government is also opposed to any movement which would increase the economic confusion already prevailing in Germany. The government is willing, however, to join in a strong protest to Germany.

France is demanding further penalties upon Germany for the refusal of Berlin to accede to new French requests

Opinion was expressed in diplomatic circles that Great Britain and France face a complete break which may come any time. There was much comment over Premier Baldwin's flat declaration in the house of commons that the Anglo-French entente cannot continue indefinitely, under present conditions.

France, for several days, has been exerting pressure upon Great Britain to join in further penalties upon Germany, demanding an immediate answer.

With the collapse of the entente cordiale, which was originated by the late King Edward, England would be left without an ally in Europe. On the other hand, France is allied to Belgium, Poland and the powers of the "little entente."

German Cabinet to Give Further Aid to Unemployed

By S. D. WEYER
For International News Service

BERLIN, Nov. 16.—Contrary to the urgent advice of the ministry of finance, the cabinet today decided to continue financial support of the unemployed in the Ruhr for another ten days.

This decision was based upon the following considerations:

1—To avert threatened chaos which is deemed inevitable if the penniless, unemployed Germans in the Ruhr are left without any support whatsoever.

2—To rob the industrialists of the excuse of making their own deals with the French.

3—To avoid giving the Reich the attitude of setting the Ruhr adrift, an attitude which would give impetus to the movement for an autonomous Rhineland republic.

The government decided to send 100,000,000 rente marks into the Ruhr for unemployment dotes.

Denies Giving Order for Stinnes' Arrest

BERLIN, Nov. 16.—A report that General De Goutte, commander of the French occupational forces in the Ruhr, had issued an order to arrest Hugo Stinnes, the great German industrial magnate, was denied at Herr Stinnes' office today.

DEATHS---FUNERALS

JAMES THOMAS MERRY

Funeral services for James Thomas Merry, who died Tuesday, November 13, at the family home at 3701 Edenhurst avenue in the Atwater tract, were held Wednesday morning in the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial park. The Jewel City Undertaking company was in charge.

A friend of the deceased wrote the following obituary:

James Thomas Merry, son of Robert and Sarah Merry, was born March 4, 1858, in Bond county, Ill., and departed this life November 13 at his home, 3701 Edenhurst avenue, in the Atwater tract.

When a child he moved with his parents to Kansas, where he grew to manhood. He was united in marriage to Georgia A. Le Gresley of Winfield, Ia., June 23, 1885. To this union were born three children: Glenn N., of Iowa City, Ia., Mrs. Grace McConnell of Los Angeles and Harold of Los Angeles.

He was converted in early manhood and united with the Free Methodist church and remained a faithful member until death. He served the church for many years in the capacity of Sunday school superintendent, class leader and local preacher, and for several years held a pastorate on various circuits in Kansas and Illinois. He was an ardent prohibitionist, and held the office of state secretary of the Prohibition party of Kansas for eight years.

He had been poorly for some years and about a year ago was compelled to give up his work, owing to a complication of diseases—kidney, liver and other difficulties, besides hardening of the arteries. He suffered constantly the last few weeks, but bore it manfully. Faithfulness was his motto in whatever work he performed.

He calmly and carefully arranged all his business affairs, knowing his time was short. The record of a long life in the service of God needed no revision. The record stands the test.

He leaves to mourn his departure three children, four grandchildren, two sisters and one brother, and many friends, besides his wife, who has nobly stood by him through all these years.

We commend the bereaved ones to our loving heavenly Father who alone is able to comfort and sustain them in this hour of sorrow.

Home Wedding

At a beautiful home wedding, the marriage of E. Gilbert Emery of Glendale and Miss Mary E. King was celebrated Thursday afternoon, November 15, 1923, at 2:15 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. E. King, 6258 DeLongprey avenue, Hollywood.

Rev. Stewart P. MacLennan, pastor of the Hollywood Presbyterian church, was the officiant, using the impressive ring ceremony.

The mantel and fireplace were banked with pink and white sweet peas and ferns, before which the bridal party stood, and the rooms were attractively decorated with carnations in the same dainty colors.

Miss Olive Belle Emery, sister of the groom served as bridesmaid, and Waldo King, brother of the bride, was best man.

The bride was charming in her going-away gown of brown silk crepe with a corsage bouquet of bride rosebuds and maiden hair fern.

The ceremony was witnessed only by the immediate families of the bride and groom.

Clarence Smith, a cousin of Mr. Emery, came down from Berkeley for the wedding.

Following the ceremony the bride's cake was cut with the groom's cake, which had been baked by a lifelong friend of the bride in South Dakota and sent for the occasion, and was served with ice cream in heart design with coffee.

Mrs. Emery is a graduate of Hollywood High school and, previous to her marriage, was a junior in the University of Southern California, and is a member of Kappa Delta sorority.

Mr. Emery is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery of 329 North Kenwood and has spent nearly all his life in Glendale. He graduated from the Glendale Union High school in 1919 and from the College of Business Administration of the University of Southern California in 1923. Mr. Emery is now employed at the Merchants' National bank, Los Angeles.

Beautiful gifts of silver, china, cut glass, linen and rugs were received by this popular couple, who, on their return from a brief wedding trip in the north, will go directly to their new home at 1015½ El Centro avenue, Hollywood.

Plan Girls' Work

The Executive Board of the Girl Scout Council of Glendale met Thursday night at the Chamber of Commerce office, in conjunction with Community Service to further plans for the Girl Scout Rally, which is to take place on or about December 8th and to draft a constitution for their charter.

Mrs. F. A. Beach, newly-elected Scout Commissioner for the District, was chairman of the meeting. Other Board members present being Mesdames W. R. Wichert, G. U. Moyse, W. E. Routt, M. J. Brennan, A. S. Chase, R. E. Tucker, and Misses Gladys and Margaret Sharpe.

Members of the rally committee, who met preceding the board meeting and were present during the evening, included Mesdames Mabel Horner, Pierson Hanning, F. C. Ayars, F. H. Roberts, Harry B. Lockwood, and R. E. Tucker, who represented Community Service.

Hear Decorator

Mrs. Allen Fairchild, curator, presided yesterday at the meeting of the Home Economic section of the Tuesday Afternoon club at the clubhouse. The thirty club women in attendance, heard an interesting and educational talk by Mrs. Henrietta Capp of Los Angeles on "The Psychology of Color."

Mrs. Fairchild and the section members are in charge of the chicken dinner to be served tonight at the society circus. They are planning to serve between 400 and 500 persons.

Birthday Dinner

Mrs. B. G. Lindeman of 541 West Pioneer drive entertained last night with a dinner party in the celebration of the birthday anniversary of her daughter, Mrs. V. G. Barney of 235 North Columbus avenue.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Barney, Mr. and Mrs. Montague, Mr. and Mrs. A. Toarle, of Glendale and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Stanbery of Pasadena, Miss Konbalinka and R. Sparks of Los Angeles and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Lindeman.

Church Bazaar

The annual chicken dinner and bazaar of the Central Christian church will be held Tuesday, November 20, in the social hall of the church. A chicken dinner will be served at noon and the sale and bazaar will be held all day and evening.

There will be fancywork booths, candy booths, cooked food sale, rummage sale and other booths, announces the chairman, Mrs. O. L. Kilborn.

Creative Section

Sponsoring the activity of the creative section of the Glendale Music club, Mrs. J. H. Ballagh, curator of the section, opened her home at 308 North Louise street, last night, for the first meeting of the section.

Among those meeting with her for discussion of creative work were Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, Mrs. Helen Graham Cole and Miss Harris.

Birthday Surprise

Miss Gertrude Wade of 425 North Louise street, formerly of Winnipeg, Can., was delightfully surprised Wednesday night, when a group of her Canadian friends met at her home to celebrate her birthday.

Music and games featured the enjoyable informal evening.

Guild Bazaar

Plans for the formal opening of the remodeled guild hall at St. Mark's Episcopal church, Friday, November 23, with the annual holiday bazaar and supper of the Women's guild, were completed yesterday at the Guild meeting with Mrs. B. B. Atwood of 706 East Harvard street.

For the past few months the church women have been working for the bazaar and Mrs. Katherine Goodwin has been appointed general chairman.

Activities will begin at 10 o'clock on Friday morning, November 23, and will close with a big dinntr at 7 o'clock in the evening with Mrs. Frank England and Mrs. Sarah Hill in charge.

Mrs. Grace Rowsey will have charge of the cooked food booth; Mrs. J. S. Farber of quilts, bed linen and rugs; Miss Louise Packer of home-made house dresses and aprons; the Girls' Friendly society of candy; Mrs. F. S. Card of fancywork and doll exhibit; Mrs. Speck of tea, cake and popcorn balls.

After the dinner in the evening, Mrs. LeRoy Bosserman will have charge of a musical program.

Informal Affairs

Members of the Glendale Avenue Parent-Teachers' association are entertaining with a series of informal receptions and afternoon teas bringing the room teachers and mothers together in a delightful social way.

Mrs. E. C. Hurlbert of 348 West Park avenue was hostess both Wednesday and Thursday afternoons of this week at her home, assisted by other members of the P.-T. A. Teachers invited Wednesday were Misses Jennie Lacy, Alice Lookabaugh, Natalie Mackay and Loraine Fritch.

Thursday afternoon Miss Ruth Williams and Messrs. J. F. McMaster and H. E. Bremer were invited to meet their room mothers. Today Mrs M. A. Heasley will be hostess at her home, 206 West Windsor road, and teachers invited are Misses Gertrude Grider and Gladys Sharpe with their room mothers.

Columbus P.-T. A.

At the meeting yesterday of the Columbus Avenue Parent-Teacher association, Superintendent Richardson D. White addressed the members on "American Educational Week," giving an outline of the program for Glendale during next week, "Educational Week."

Mrs. Alma J. Danford, Glendale librarian, also gave an interesting talk pertaining to "Children's Books."

Mrs. W. Q. Widdows and Mrs. J. R. Meyers favored those present with a duet.

During the business session which was presided over by the president, Mrs C. P. Tedford, it was decided to serve milk to the kindergarten department during the morning. Plans were also inaugurated for presenting a Christmas tree and program to the kindergarten department for the Christmas exercises.

Dance Tonight

Special features of the dance to be given tonight at the K. P. hall, Park avenue and Brand boulevard,, by the Pythian Sisters, will be the prize waltz and fox trot.

The California Oriole jazz orchestra will furnish the music for the dancing, which will begin at 9 o'clock. Members of the Pythian Sisters extend a cordial invitation to all Glendalians ot attend the dance tonight.

The committee in charge of arrangements includes Mrs. Blanche Willett, chairman; Mesdames Arline Johnson and Mabel King.

Legion Auxiliary

Glendale women of the auxiliary of the local American Legion post meeting next Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Legion hall on East Broadway are to have a special treat, for their president, Mrs. Margaret Kaeding, is to give them a report on the recent meeting at San Francisco.

Nominations will be made during the meeting for officers for the coming year, and plans will be made for the holiday activities.

Lutheran Guild

Aiming to augment the building fund for the new church, the women's guild of the First Lutheran church is to hold a chicken dinner and bazaar Saturday from 5:30 until 8 o'clock at the Masonic temple at 232 South Brand boulevard.

There will be many interesting things for holiday gifts and a splendid dinner menu is being arranged.

Teacher Is Host

The members and friends of the young people's class of the Broadway Methodist church Sunday school enjoyed a social gathering last night at the home of the organization's teacher, John N. Knight, of 707 North Howard street.

Ricard Ford, president of the class, and Miss Gertrude Edens were in charge of the affair, which was most enjoyable.

White Shrine

Mrs. Evelyn G. Pierce, worthy high priestess of the Omar Shrine, White Shrine of Jerusalem, announces that the business meeting tonight will begin at 7:30 o'clock and that a card party will follow.

Hold Food Sale

Mesdames Ratigan, Chappius, Quinn and Miss Ruprecht compose the committee arranging the cooked food sale the altar society of the Holy Family church will hold tomorrow at the Coker & Taylor store at 209 South Brand boulevard.

Thursday Club

The recently organized arts and crafts section, which includes all the members of the Thursday Afternoon club, met yesterday afternoon at the K. P. hall, corner of Park and Brand boulevard.

Mrs. McNaughton Barnes is the director of the new section, and needlework of various kinds was the order of the afternoon.

The business session was under the direction of Mrs. E. V. Bacon, president of the club.

Plans for a Chirstmas sale in December were discussed. Mrs. Chauncey Lake was appointed chairman of the ways and means committee, and will be in charge of the sale, the date of which will be announced later.

Mrs. J. M. Server was appointed corresponding secretary to fill the vacancy made by the removal of Mrs. Roy Bancroft, the present secretary, to Oakland.

A food sale will be held Saturday, November 24, in charge of Mrs. S. D. Vantine and Mrs. Roy Bancroft, the place to be announced later.

Attend Reception

A party of Glendalians are to motor to the Wilshire Country club tonight to attend the big reception given by the Los Angeles Eastern Stars for Mrs. Maude Bigelow Sibley, grand matron of the state of California.

There will be Captain and Mrs. D. Ripley Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Bourne and Mr. and Mrs. Porter M. Custer. Mr. and Mrs. Evans of Eagle Rock will also attend.

At Club Affairs

Mesdames C. F. Parker, W. E. Roake and Eleanor Squires were one group of Glendale club women attending the meeting Wednesday at Trinity Auditorium in Los Angeles, and later attended the luncheon at the Biltmore Hotel, both affairs honoring Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Bazaar-Dinner

In connection with the bazaar today at the Pacific Avenue Church, the aid society members are to serve dinner from 6:30 till 7:30 o'clock, with Mesdames Scott and Leslie Tronsier in charge.

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE

In "Crinoline and Romance," the Metro photoplay now showing at the Glendale theatre, Viola Dana is given ample opportunity for a display of her best work. The picture was directed by Harry Beaumont, as written and adapted by Bernard McConville.

There is no more delightful personality on the screen today than Miss Dana, and her present role, that of Emmy Lou, a daughter of the Old South, is as charming as any she has portrayed during her long career.

Emmy's experiences with a modern crowd of "advanced" flappers and their beaux is a revelation to her and, after breaking several hearts, she returns home with two of the most persistent suitors still on her trail.

In the supporting cast are Claude Gillingwater, Lillian Lawrence and Allan Forrest. The locale is North Carolina.

Twenty-five thousand feet above the ground the temperature is lower than 20 degrees below zero.

THE GATEWAY

"The Eternal Struggle," a Reginald Barker production, released by Metro, is the feature at the Gateway theatre today. It is adapted from the well-known novel, 'The Law Bringers,' by G. B. Lancaster.

In the strong cast assembled for this massive story of the Canadian northwest are to be found Renee Adoree, Earle Williams, Barbara LaMarr, Pat O'Malley, Wallace Beery, Josef Swickard, Pat Harmon and Robert Anderson.

Thrilling realism is the keynote of "The Eternal Struggle." For the first time in history the turbulent waters of Seymour Canyon rapids, near North Vancouver, have been conquered by a canoe to provide one of the most spectacular scenes ever filmed.

"The Eternal Struggle" is a Louis B. Meyer presentation. It is a picture of marvelous beauty.

An average consumption of ten quarts of ice cream for each resident in New York City, is a record for one year.

Meal Ticket Voters Name Noted Savant As Bearer Of Campaign Standard

Following the arrival in Glendale of a mysterious delegation from Washington, B. C., Professor Xavius Zantippe has been nominated for president on the meal ticket. The film stars of Hollywood are all reported to be back of him, though just how far back the report fails to state. Though his platform is impractical, it will photograph well, they claim. And he will be a distinct asset to the industry, as he is said on good authority to be the best shot in Southern California with the bull-shooter.

In his first unofficial interview, the learned professor states: "My campaign slogan will be 'More hot drinks and less cold feet!' It will be my aim to keep the bars closed and the studios open. If elected, I agree to transfer the film headquarters from Hollywood to Glendale.

Appreciates Misfortune

"I am deeply grateful for this profound misfortune which has befallen me and will endeavor to bear up under it to the best of my ability. I feel that my nomination was due in large measure to my great contributions to science. My recent experience as Toastmaster General, moreover, has well fitted me to assume this high office of candidate for the presidency.

"While I realize that I will never become President, it is nevertheless with real enthusiasm that I accept the nomination and assure my backers that they never wasted their money in supporting a better man than me."

It will be recalled that among Professor Zantippe's contributions to science are the discovery of a natural river from Big Bear lake to Verdugo Woodlands and the discovery of a natural bridge over the Los Angeles river near the west terminus of Park avenue.

Ignored by Spouse

Mrs. Zantippe, when interviewed, declared herself to be in complete ignorance of the matter and said she wished to remain that way indefinitely.

"While I admit that poor Xavius made a tol'able Toastmaster General, I feel that he is not the man for the presidency. In the first place, he is too quick-tempered. Why, only last night he spanked Xandu, Xcellente and even tiny Xcrucius, all over nothing at all. I'd hate to have him elected President and go to spanking his Cabinet members and the Members of Congress and all the other members.

"In the second place, Xavius's duty is at home. It's bad enough when he goes out and shoots Kelly pool, as he says, but if he got to shooting that strong stuff, I just know his constitution wouldn't stand the strain.

"And in the third place, I don't want Xavius to be President in the first place."

Which is after all a woman's reason—and as good as any.

Bans Interviews

Professor Zantippe, however, has declared after seeing the above interview with his wife that he will still run for the presidency, and has notified the papers to cease publishing interviews with her until after the election.

So this will be the last interview with Mrs. Zantippe to appear until after Professor Xavius has either been elected or rejected.

BURGLARS FOILED

Thieves last night attempted to enter the store of the Automobile Tire company, 143 South Brand boulevard. Police found the lock on the front door broken, but a check of the stock this morning revealed that nothing had been taken.

Columbian Ideals Are Presented by Speaker

The ideals of Columbianism as related to civic and national ideals were presented most eloquently last night at the Knights of Columbus meeting in the clubhouse on East Lomita avenue by Joseph Scott of Los Angeles, past state deputy of the Knights of Columbus, and one of the honored members of the order of St. Gregory.

Following Mr. Scott's address, the company was entertained by the Sutton sisters, pianist, violinist and child impersonator.

In the absence of Grand Knight Jesse E. Smith, Deputy Grand Knight Edward Albright directed the meeting, when approval was voiced of the welfare chest movement and plans made for participation in it.

Plans were completed for the big reception, card party and dance Saturday night at the clubhouse for members and friends of the Holy Family Catholic parish.

The affair will begin at 8 o'clock and card games will be played till 10 o'clock, when lunch will be served and dancing will follow.

VISITOR LEAVES FOR CHILI POST

John Villarin to Spend Three Years Laying Cables for U. S. Concern

It will be of interest to his friends and acquaintances to hear that John Villarin of the All-American Cables company, who was guest at a dinner in his honor recently at the home of Mrs. Stella Goodman, 645 North Central avenue, is now en route to South America on board the Oriental liner, Gunyo Maru, due to arrive in Iquique, Chili, about December 8, where he is to be located under a three-year contract, and will be engaged in the laying and operating of submarine cables for the company which is said to give the finest service to Central and South America. At the expiration of the present contract he expects to be transferred to the United States with New Orleans as the probable location, but states that he would prefer the west coast.

Mr. Villarin spent three years in Chili, leaving there last April for a six-weeks' vacation, and was a visitor here in June, looking up LeRoy Anderson, who wintered in Glendale, and was one of his associates in South America three years ago. He also visited at the home of Mrs. Goodman at that time.

The summer months he spent in a voyage to Hawaii, the Philippines and a tour of the Orient, arriving in Japan in time to be a witness of the recent terrible disaster in that country. He states that the pictures that have been shown on the screen, depicting the havoc wrought by the earthquake, are by no means exaggerated.

The voyage to Japan was made on the Tenyo Maru, the return to San Francisco on the Snuyo Maru, Oriental liners. After visiting a sister in San Francisco he made a short stop here and left immediately for the voyage south. His sister and Mrs. Goodman are each happy in the ownership of a handsome necklace of white jade that he brought them from the Orient.

Republican Contest Now in Full Swing

ment, is regarded here as a certain candidate. Senator George Wharton Pepper's position is understood to be similar to Senator Watson's. Pennsylvania Republicans already have caucussed and decided to send an unpledged delegation to the Republican convention.

New York also will send an unpledged delegation, according to expectations.

It is already regarded as certain that Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin will be an avowed candidate by the time the convention rolls around. He will, of course, command the support of his own Wisconsin, and it is believed he will make an effort to secure the support of Minnesota and probably of the Dakotas and Montana.

Lodge for Coolidge

Kansas Republicans intend to present the name of Senator Arthur Capper, leader of the senatorial farm bloc.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, the Republican leader of the senate, conferred with President Coolidge at the White House this morning. Asked his opinion of the Hiram Johnson candidacy, Senator Lodge said:

"I am a warm personal friend of Senator Johnson, and I hope that I may remain so. But I am for President Coolidge, and the whole world knows I am."

Little else but the Johnson candidacy was talked about in political circles here today. To the Democrats it was of scarcely less interest than to the Republicans.

Considered Challenge

Senator Johnson's declaration was considered a challenge to all aspirants, whether they be active or merely native son candidates. He served notice that he intends to contest for delegates in every state having a presidential primary, numbering more than twenty, and invited other candidates to do the same.

It is understood that A. D. Lasker, ex-chairman of the United States shipping board, is to become the financial and political generalissimo of the Johnson campaign.

Widening of Central Stirs Lively Clash

signed the protest and later, when approached by those in favor of the widening, wished to have their names withdrawn.

Wants Work Started

John S. Knox, speaking in favor of the widening, contended that, under the law, only 42.4 per cent of the property owners had protested against it, and the work should go on. He took issue with those opposed to it, stating that Central avenue was easily "the second best street in Glendale," and it was only a question of time until this work had to be done and now was the time to do it, when the cost would not be a fraction of what it would be in ten years. He cited the vast amount of money that it is costing Los Angeles at the present day to rectify mistakes made in the past.

W. T. Jefferson, who stated that only yesterday he had taken out a permit for a $40,000 building at Central avenue and Los Feliz road, stated that the plans and specifications for the new building called for it to be set back ten feet, in anticipation of the improvement, and thought that it ought to be done.

W. F. Tower also spoke at some length in favor of the proposition.

The opposition was equally strenuous in their objections. They stated that the property owners would not be compensated to the value of the ten feet of land which would be taken away from them, and that additional space from curb to curb could be gained without all the expense of the proceedings necessary to the proposed improvement. By doing away with the parking and having a ten-foot sidewalk, they asserted, would give a sixty-eight-foot road from curb to curb, which was wide enough. Some of the representatives stated that they would be damaged almost beyond recompense by the widening of the street, especially those who owned property without considerable depth. Their contention was that the desired result could be obtained without the drastic steps which it was proposed to take.

Offers to Withdraw

After challenges and veiled insinuations had been hurled back and forth for some time, John E. Paul, 233 South Orange street, circulator of the first petition protesting against the work, stated that if those in favor of it could produce the signatures of 51 per cent of those owning property, he would withdraw his objection. Mr. Tower, on behalf of those favoring the proposition, accepted the challenge, and the battle was on.

Mr. Tower said that he presumed the council would be satisfied with a petition signed by a majority of those owning property on Central avenue.

The adjourned hearing on the protests will be Thursday night, December 13, when the City Council hopes to settle the matter to the satisfaction of the majority of the residents in the district.

U. of C. Develops New Way to Save Fruits

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 16.—A discovery which may add hundreds of thousands of dollars to the market value of California fruits has been made by the fruit products department of the College of Agriculture of the University of California. This valuable find is the process by which fruit may be kept fresh for an indefinite period of time. So far experiments have been successful.

The method of putting up fruit so as to preserve it in its natural state is under the direction of Professor A. W. Christie, who is taking the place of Professor W. V. Cruess, who began the experiments, now on leave in Europe.

Peaches were the fruit used in the experiment. These were sliced while fresh and put into a cold syrup which is made of 20 grams of sugar to 80 grams of water. This was then placed in tin cans and sealed. The cans were put into the refrigerator. Since then samples have been tested from time to time. They taste and look just like fresh peaches. Professor Christie says that the syrup and the sealing in air-tight containers is the secret, as it keeps out the air which causes decay.

Five Face Conspiracy Charge In Dry Raid

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 16.—Five men were arrested yesterday on charges of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act when federal prohibition agents raided a warehouse in Sacramento street, seizing more than 100 cases of bonded liquors and a large number of fake boxes of cigars, containing whisky for "Christmas presents." The agents said that with the raid they believed they had broken up one of the most active liquor rings that ever operated in this city.

New Owners of Verdugo Hills Line Plan to Install New Equipment

Ownership of the Verdugo Hills Transportation company pased into new hands Thursday when R. F. Fitz, resident of Glendale and W. C. Dunlap of San Fernando formally took possession of the business. The purchase was completed several days ago.

The new owners, who also own the Original Stage line, operating between San Fernando and Los Angeles, have announced that they will spend $100,000 immediately on new equipment which will include three new twenty-five passenger busses costing $10,000 each. Bodies have already been built, according to the announcement, and will be put in commission within a month.

Change in Schedules

Present schedules will be maintained for the present with these exceptions; two morning stages leaving Los Angeles at 5:15 and 7:15 will be operated straight to San Fernando, eliminating a change of busses at Tujunga for San Fernando passengers. Two evening stages out of San Fernando, leaving at 6:45 and 7:45, will also be operated as through units. These are the only changes announced, but the new owners intend to add to the service as the demand develops.

It is understood that special cars will be operated between Montrose and Los Angeles to handle passengers in the eastern end of the valley and busses will continue to run between Sunland, Tujunga and Los Angeles as heretofore.

May Merge Companies

The Verdugo Hills Transportation company may be merged with the Original Stage line company at a later date, but for the present they will be operated separately.

A. J. Richardson, who was president and principal owner of the Verdugo Hills company, retains ownership of the freight trucking business that he has been operating under the name of Richardson Transportation company.

Mr. Richardson stated that he will devote his time to this business. It is understood that Don Campbell will remain with the new owners as manager, either at Tujunga or San Fernando.

Mr. Dunlap is one of the pioneers of the automobile stage business in California. He has owned the Original Stage Line for about nine years. Mr. Fitz has been associated with him for about one year. Both were voted into membership in the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce at the last meeting of that organization.

Crash Victim Improves

Mrs. John A. Caldwell, who was injured in an automobile accident about ten days ago on Michigan avenue, Tujunga, has recovered sufficiently to be removed to her home in Tujunga from the hospital in Glendale where she was taken for treatment.

Tujunga merchants have been making contributions to a grab bag that will be one of the attractions of the toy sale by the American Legion auxiliary to be held on the first Thursday and Friday in December. Many valuable articles and amusing toys suitable for Christmas gifts will be on sale.

Next Monday will be a holiday in Tujunga and Sunland schools to allow the teachers to attend the institute at Glendale. The trustees have also decided to declare Friday following Thanksgiving a holiday.

Planing Mill Barred in Residential Area

A number of residents on Concord street appeared before the City Council last night and protested against the action of the Glendale Lumber company in reopening their planing mill, which was dismantled eighteen months ago when this property was declared a residential district. The building has never been torn down, although the machinery was moved out, it was stated. Recently activity has been shown in the direction of installing new machinery, those objecting stated last night, and they desired that the re-opening of the mill be prohibited.

They were informed by the members of the Council that as this was a residential district, no commercial plant could operate.

Policeman Thanked For Ancient Kindness

ALTOONA, Nov. 16.—The local police department has received a post card from a man who asked that his appreciation be given to Daniel Anders, who was formerly a patrolman here.

The writer, who signed only his initials, said that twenty-five years ago he was in Altoona and Anders took him home, gave him a bed and breakfast and wished him "Good luck" in the morning. He said he is now well off and has not forgotten the kind act.

The card was forwarded to Anders, who is now living in Parker, Ind.

OXY TEAM READY FOR GRID BATTLE

2 Southern Branch Games for Saturday Rousing Keen Enthusiasm

By LARRY RAYMOND
Written for The Evening News

The Occidental varsity eleven is looking forward to their game with Southern Branch tomorrow afternoon on Paterson field at 2:30. The freshmen teams of the same institutions will furnish a lively curtain raiser, starting at 1:30 p. m.

A big rally was held this morning in the Oxy chapel and the entire student body is enthusiastic over the coming combat. Every Oxy man is looking forward to beating Pomona college in the game to be staged at Claremont the following week, and just what chances the Tigers have rests in their ability to nail the Cubs in their tracks Saturday. Coach Pipal spoke a few words emphasizing the importance of defeating S. B. U. C. and Pomona in order to even tie with Calteck. Captain Tony Spangler urged the students to come out and support the team this week in spite of the fact that the Engineers messed things up last week.

Oxy's football obstacles are not over yet. The next two games will furnish plenty of excitement for the Eagle Rock boys.

Oxy Handicapped

Both games will find Oxy entering the ring with several drawbacks. Pierre Priaulx, the center brick of the line around which the entire forward wall has been built, has a double broken leg and is out for good. Captain Tony Spangler and Cliff Argue, the flashy wing men, have injured ankles and it is certain that Captain Spangler will not even get in the game with the Cubs and he says himself that he might not play against the Sagehens. In addition, Gordon Shoaf is still on the casualty list.

"Bullet" Hazeltine and Pursel will probably start at the ends tomorrow. They are very fast and did wonderful work against odds in the Beaver-Tiger tussle. The Branch seems to be just rounding into top notch shape and every man is in first-class physical condition and raring to go. The heavy Cub line may frustrate another hoped-for Tiger victory. However, the Oxy team has a strong scoring machine in Dave Ridderhoff, Clarence Ebers, Tevis Westgate, and Fochie Smith. S. B. U. C. lacks a good booter and they will have to import one before the game or Ebers will win the game on punts. Ebers is the king of all Oxy punts and kicks.

Stokes Launches New Attack Against Wife

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 16.—Balked in his efforts to secure a divorce, William Earl Dodge Stokes, millionaire New York turfman, has launched what is believed to be a new attack on his pretty titian-haired wife, Helen Elwood Stokes.

Stokes sought the record of his marriage in 1911, going over the files of the health bureau here and telephoning to the capital at Trenton for further information. Stokes refused to comment on his action.

WRESTLING COACH

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Nov. 16.—Vaughan Hosepian, inter-collegiate lightweight wrestling champion, has been appointed wrestling coach at Stanford for the coming year. Hosepian, who graduated at Stanford last year, has been through three intercollegiate seasons without defeat and this year expects to put his Cardinal mat team in the first rank.

TROJAN TEAM TO TACKLE ARIZONA

Scrappy Wildcats to Furnish Gridiron Entertainment for Fans

By "DOC" McGILLIS
Of The Evening News Staff.

Southern California's main football dish for this week-end will be tomorrow's annual clash between Coach Fred McKale's University of Arizona Wildcats and the fighting U. S. C. Trojans, who lost to California last Saturday. While neither team has made as impressive a record this year as during the past few seasons nevertheless the contest is creating sufficient interest to warrant an attendance of twenty-five thousand.

Coach McKale and his scrappy bunch of pigskinners arrived in Los Angeles early this morning and are spending this afternoon getting acquainted with the Coliseum playing field. Although the Wildcats are not conceded one chance in five of a victory, still past history tells us that McKale's boys will be fighting until the final whistle. Last year's tussle between the two squads resulted in a 14 to 0 victory for the Trojans, who were held scoreless three-quarters of the game.

It is more than likely that "Gloomy Gus" Henderson will play most of his second string men against Arizona, as he is expected to have stiffer opposition next week when his Cardinal and Gold eleven hooks up with the unbeaten Idaho Vandals. Even at that, the U. S. C. team is expected to win by a margin of twenty to fifty points.

record survey. Texas has picked a live one in Oklahoma, which lost its opening game to Nebraska, but since has been coming like the wind.

Yale-Princeton

NEW HAVEN, Nov 16.—Yale will have its full strength available this afternoon for the first time in more than a week when it runs through its final practice for the Princeton game in the bowl tomorrow. The return of Richeson to quarterback and Mills to full for the last workout means the bull dog will be stronger tomorrow than at any other time this season.

Princeton Ready

PRINCETON, Nov. 16.—With the cheers of the entire undergraduate body ringing in their ears, Princeton's football men left Tigertown early today for New Haven where they will meet Yale in the second game of the big three series tomorrow. The team received a typical Princeton send-off, the students snake-dancing to the station and giving an individual cheer for every man in the varsity squad. The Princeton party will arrive at New Haven in time for a short workout this afternoon. The game will be Princeton's final one of the season.

Clash With Bears

BERKELEY, Nov. 16.—Keyed to a fine point for their clash here Saturday with the California Bears, the University of Washington huskies, undefeated gridiron warriors, arrived in Berkeley today. Washington and California are leaders in the Pacific coast conference and tomorrow's tilt will probably decide western honors.

Ziel, star triple threat back of the invaders, was reported suffering from an injury received last week but Coach Enoch Bagshaw said he thought Ziel would be able to start against the Bears.

Coach Andy Smith is expected to order an aerial attack, supplemented with trick plays, in an attempt to defeat the powerful northern eleven.

Stanford-Idaho

PALO ALTO, Nov. 16.—With the record of an uncrossed goal line, the University of Idaho football eleven arrived here today for their game Saturday with Stanford. The Vandals went through light drill today, passing the ball and kicking.

Stanford finished a week of secret practice. Coach Andy Kerr has been tight-lipped regarding the Cardinals' plans for tomorrow and may uncork a number of new plays.

The invaders are considered extremely powerful and although rated slightly weaker than California and Washington are topping the coast conference with the Bears and Huskies.

Marriages Are Scarce Despite Pretty Girls

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Lower Halstow, in Kent county, considered by connoisseurs to breed the prettiest girls in the south of England, has not heard the sound of wedding bells since August last year, and local worthies are much perturbed.

Rev. Olive, Lower Halstow's vicar, hints that the possible cause is bashfulness on the part of the men folk of the village, but unromantic statisticians explain the absence of wedding bells by pointing out that the birth rate of girls has been much lower than that of boys within the last twenty years.

Some underwear is on its good behavior only when you first meet it. Because the fabric undergoes a process of forced drying to save time in its manufacture it loses its shape after the first wearing.

Annette Underwear

is not only tailored to fit but it is curved to follow the lines of the body. You don't have to stretch it to make it fit in one place and then have it sag, bunch or gap in another. And in addition, Annette fabrics are dried for hours in the brilliant sunshine of California, thus giving the garments a preshrunk quality — that insures a perfect holding of shape.

Yours for comfort,

Annette

SILK HOSIERY

SOME OF THE FEATURES

(1) EXTRA LENGTH—Measures 30 inches against the standard 27 inches. This extra length gives additional comfort and wearing qualities.

(2) DOUBLED TOP—The mercerized top is doubled to the silk, which gives extra strength, superior finish, and makes the top extra elastic.

(3) PURE SILK SOLE AND RE-INFORCING—No cotton to wash through and look shabby.

(4) GARTER-RUN-STOP—NO MORE "LADDERS"—A safety device at the junction of the silk body and mercerized top, prevents "runs" from garter injuries going below the knee.

(5) WIDE RANGE OF FASHIONABLE NEW SHADES —Pure Dyed, not "loaded." Absolutely fast colors.

(6) DON'T LOSE SHAPE AFTER WASHING—Snug fitting Ankles and Feet.

(7) WEAR LONGER.

JURY WILL PROBE BLACKMAIL PLOT

Attorney Arrested in Alleged Attempt to Get Money From Film Star

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 16.—Evidence alleging that Herman L. Roth, prominent New York and Los Angeles attorney, attempted to extort $20,000 from Barbara La Marr, film actress, was expected to be presented before the county grand jury today. Roth was arrested yesterday by detectives from the district attorney's office, after it is claimed, he is alleged to have been given $400 in marked money by Arthur H. Sawyer, Associated Pictures director, who worked with the district attorney's office when he gave Roth the money.

The trouble is said to have started when N. Bernard Deely, former husband of the actress, retained Roth to file divorce papers for him, charging desertion. Roth, it is claimed, without the knowledge of Deely, prepared the suit, charging desertion. Then he prepared a second suit naming several co-respondents, and attempted to get $20,000 from Miss La Marr under the threat that the second suit would be filed unless he was given the money. The $400 alleged to have been passed to Roth yesterday is said to have been a first payment on the money Roth demanded. Other payments of $100 weekly were to be made Roth until the sum was paid.

Barbara La Marr Maintains Silence

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—Barbara La Marr, screen actress, from whom Herman L. Roth is alleged to have attempted to extort $20,000, declined to discuss the case today.

"I came here to rest after the completion of a picture and preparatory to beginning another," Miss La Marr said, "and cannot discuss any phase of this case which is in the hands of my lawyers."

Youngsters, Wedded, Must Go to School

CHARLESTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 16.—Children in West Virginia cannot hope to escape school attendance by merely getting married, according to a ruling just made by E. T. England, attorney-general of the State. An opinion was given at the request of A. B. Baxter, of Quick, Kanawha County, with regard to the case of a child of 13 who married at that age. "It is the policy of the State," the opinion states, "to require with certain exceptions and exemptions, all children between the ages of 7 and 14 to attend public schools as an inducement to better citizenship. Marriage does not fall within any of the exemptions."

Maid Drops Package; Shades of Barleycorn

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 16.—A certain pretty girl, wearing a prettier fur coat, will avoid carrying moonshine, or home brew, wrapped in newspapers in the future.

She stood on one of the principal street corners one evening recently. The package under her arm gave no clue to the nature of its contents. A car hove in sight. She stepped from the curb to the safety zone. As she did so the package fell to the street.

There was a crash. Bystanders laughed. Then a strong odor reviving poignant memories of pre-Volstead days permeated the atmosphere. The girl blushed and hastily boarded the car.

200 Stray Cats Camp With Genial Ohioan

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 16.—Ernest Penrose, a Newark, Ohio, business man, states that seemingly every auto tourist who passed his home during last summer had a couple of undesirable cats to get rid of and left them all at his home on the road between Granville and Columbus, Ohio. And the embarrassing part of it is that the cats have all taken a liking to their new domicile and decided to stay. As a result Penrose's home has assumed the aspect of a "cat orphanage," with more than 200 inmates.

Penrose complains of the lack of housing facilities and fears that many of the cats will freeze this winter. He has begged people to come and get a real nice "pussy" from the fine collection, but practically everybody refuses to accept the offer.

Suffering cats!

Fastidious Even If Wardrobe Is Scanty

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Financially Raymond Weaver may be a bum without a dime in his pocket, but he certainly knows how to "put on the ritz."

Detective sergeants who went to arrest him on a charge of passing bogus checks discovered that when they arrived in his $125 apartment, where his Japanese man-servant was busily brushing or folding Weaver's only other suit, his pajamas, extra shirt and two collars—the entire Weaver wardrobe.

The Japanese told the police his sole duties were to take care of this dazzling array of garments and just be handy when the master wished something.

The detective reported finding the letters in Weaver's effects. One was signed with the name of Marie Herman, of Detroit, Mich., and warned Weaver that she would expose some of his alleged check deals unless he ceased to blackmail her. The other was signed by a "Miss Pridge," of Cleveland, O., and related how she was being shadowed.

Chicago police said Weaver had been living at the exclusive Edgewater Beach Hotel and in the La Salle Hotel before taking the faithful lackey.

Athletics For All to Be Stanford's Slogan

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Nov. 16.—"Athletics for all" as planned by Stanford athletic authorities became a reality when interclass schedules for all sports were announced by Charles W. Davis, intramural athletic director of the Palo Alto college. Interclass football for the collegiate championship begins soon. It will be followed in season by basketball, track, tennis, baseball, soccer football, boxing, fencing and swimming.

It is the plan of the department of physical education to have every able man take part in some form of athletics while he is in college.

Hybrid Tomato Proof Against Stinger Fly

HONOLULU, Nov. 16.—A hybrid tomato, proof against stinging by the Mediterranean fruit fly has recently been developed by the staff of the Federal agricultural experiment station in Honolulu. The hybrid is produced by crossing the common tomato with the native Hawaiian tomato and is almost perfectly round. It averages the size of a billiard ball. Professor John M. Westgate, director of the station, says the smallness of the fruit seems partly responsible for its immunity, the curvature being such that the stinger slides off.

GLENDALE CLINIC TO OPEN MONDAY

Beds, Operating Tables, and Dentist s Chairs are Already Installed

Glendale's new clinic, established under the provisions of an ordinance recently adopted by the city council, will open Monday morning, November 19, at the office of the city health department, Los Feliz road and Brand boulevard. The hours for consultation at present will be between 8 and 12 in the morning.

A nominal fee of 10 cents is charged for consultation, and if a prescription is required the patient will be charged only the actual cost of the medicines used. The minimum fee to be charged for operations will be $2.50, while in no case will the charge be over $10.

Three rooms have been fitted up completely for the clinic, including two hospital beds, operating table and dentist's chair. Several physicians and dentists have volunteered their services for the clinic, and specialists in several branches of surgery will be at the call of the health department.

Two Patients Undergo Surgical Operations

Robert F. Kolts of 914 East Elk street had his tonsils removed Wednesday at the Glendale Research hospital. He was able to go home yesterday.

Favorable Decision From Commission Expected On P. E. Tunnel Application

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of the Evening News Staff

Plans for the mile-long $3,000,000 Pacific Electric tunnel that will cut the running time between Glendale and Los Angeles from ten to fifteen minutes have been advanced to the point where construction bids will be asked within two weeks after favorable decision by the State Railroad Commission on the company's application, announces D. W. Pontius, vice president and general manager of the system.

"From the testimony presented at the recent hearing," Mr. Pontius states, "it would seem that the commission will approve our plans, in which event we are ready to start the big bore, beginning at the present Hill street terminus and coming out at First street and Glendale boulevard.

Plan for New Street

"We have effected an arrangement with the Los Angeles officials whereby a street will be built through from the intersection of Glendale and Sunset boulevards, a distance of about 1,200 feet, and over this we will lay new tracks connecting the present Glendale and Hollywood lines. It is thus readily seen that all now standing in the way of rapid transit between Glendale and Los Angeles is favorable action on our plans by the State Railroad Commission."

Construction work on the tunnel and connecting trackage should consume not more than eighteen months, according to Mr. Pontius, who points out that the project when consummated will relieve 60 per cent of the existing congestion, taking all the Glendale-Burbank service off Sixth street, as well as removing San Fernando valley trains to First street and Glendale boulevard.

The only drawback to the present plans, Mr. Pontius declares, is the fact that Los Angeles failed to authorize the terminal to be placed under the western end of Pershing Square, as voted by the people, in which location it could later have been extended to any part of the city if advisable for a subway system to be constructed; whereas, with the terminal under Hill street, it cannot be extended later to fit in with a possible subway system, owing to the exorbitant cost of changing grades, as well as the near impossibility of re-routing traffic during the period of construction.

Athletic Club Plans Big Saturday Dance

A novelty dance will be given under the auspices of the Glendale Athletic club at Hahn's auditorium, 109 North Brand boulevard, Saturday evening, November 17.

WILL TEST MILK AT HEALTH DEPT.

Bacteriologist Authorized to Continue Work Under City Department

Mrs. DeHaven, bacteriologist of the city health department, under Dr. G. Kaemmerling, received today a certificate from the division of animal industry, department of agriculture, state of California, authorizing her to test samples of milk. Mrs. DeHaven has carried on this work for some time under the city ordinance, but requested the state's authority in the matter so that there would be no doubt of her right to continue this branch of the health department's work.

In a letter to Dr. Kaemmerling from J. J. Frey, superintendent of dairy service, he says:

"I am pleased to advise you that your certificate of approval is being mailed today for the city of Glendale.

"Please accept our hearty congratulations for the excellent work being done in your department to raise the standard to that required for approval by this office."

VISITORS THRONG SOCIETY CIRCUS

Scene of Revelry Launches Two Days' Amusement At Clubhouse

A brilliant round of revelry at the Tuesday afternoon clubhouse this morning and afternoon preceded the lighting of the lights on "The Streets of Cairo" and other events of tonight for the club's society circus, that is to continue until tomorrow night.

The gay midway with its many features proved most entertaining and the various concessionaires and entertainers were highly praised by all Glendalians visiting the circus today.

Equalling, but not outdoing, the outdoor events, the many booths inside the clubhouse were strong magnets drawing the crowds first here, then there, to buy some of the lovely things that will serve as holiday gifts.

Offerings Entice

The magic goose, filled with interesting articles, and the old woman with the dress with 100 pockets were both there and the offerings at the various booths proved more enticing than had been announced.

A large crowd was served luncheon at noon and the majority of reservations are taken for the chicken pie dinner tonight.

Everyone is anticipating the awarding of the Ford automobile as the big final event Saturday night, and all attending the circus are depositing their ticket stubs in the big box provided for them. Ruth Roland, moving picture star is to make the presentation of the car.

Regional Boundaries Are Ignored As Realty Men Come to Glendale Meet

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of The Evening News Staff

Realtors from widely scattered points all over California are expected in Glendale tomorrow when the first regional conference called by Charles B. Guthrie, vice president of the California Real Estate Association, opens in the auditorium of the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning for an all-day session that will be strictly business from the first tap of the opening gavel until the meeting closes at 5 p. m.

The conference was called in the first instance solely for the seventh district, but as soon as the program was made public requests from boards and individuals all over the state began to come in, and Mr. Guthrie looks for an audience of at least 300 realtors to face him when he opens his keynote speech at the morning session.

Multiple Listing

The first half of the day, from 9 a. m. until noon, will be devoted exclusively to a consideration of the multiple listing system from every possible angle, pro and con. H. E. Nightingale of the Southwest Realty Board of Los Angeles, A. A. Pointer of the West Hollywood board, H. P. D. Kingsbury of Redlands and George W. Holbrook of San Bernardino, all of them authorities on the workings of the system, will lead the discussion, and every realtor in the audience will have a chance to express himself on the subject.

The multiple listing system has been in operation here for some time, but hitherto it has failed to secure the unanimous support of the members of the Glendale Realty Board. The problem of how best to handle the system in local boards will, it is hoped, be solved in a manner that will eventually lead to its adoption by all the members of all state boards, as the merits of the system are made clear; and the formation of multiple listing groups within the boards is believed by Vice-President Guthrie to offer a solution of at least some of the difficulties that the method is encountering at this stage.

Barbour Will Speak

President Henry P. Barbour of the California Real Estate Association will be the guest of honor at the luncheon that is to be held in the Tuesday Afternoon Club from noon until 1:30 p. m., and the address that he is scheduled to deliver will, it is asserted, cover matters of vital interest to the members of the profession.

Following the luncheon, a trip of one hour's duration will be made around the city to show the visiting realtors just what Glendale is and has, and it is expected that close to two hundred automobiles will be in line when the caravan starts from the clubhouse.

The afternoon session will open at 2 o'clock sharp and will continue until 5 o'clock, and during this time the discussion will range over many points that have an important bearing on the work of the realtors of the state.

Delegations Coming

Among those who have signified their intention of attending the conference are William H. Akin, chairman of the legislative committee of the state association; Fred E. Reed of Oakland, former president, and delegations from many cities entirely outside the confines of the seventh regional district, all of whom are anxious, as they have stated in letters to Vice-President Guthrie, "to get in one entire day's work on matters affecting the realtors of the state without any interruptions of any kind whatever."

Mr. Guthrie has urged the members of the Glendale Realty Board to cultivate the friendship of the visiting realtors in every way possible and to make their stay in Glendale a pleasant one by every means in their power.

TAKE YOUTHS TO JUVENILE COURT

Alleged Auto Thieves Spent Two Weeks Joy Riding Police Declare

The two Los Angeles boys, Keenan Holmes, 1447 West 67th street, aged 13, and Raymond Grout, 1455 West 67th street, aged 15, were arrested in Burbank several days ago charged with the theft of a motor car and several articles of wearing apparel from a car parked near the Gateway Theatre, have been taken to Juvenile Court by Captain Loving and Officer Collins.

According to a confession which, it is said, they made to the Burbank police, the boys had stolen a total of six cars during the past two weeks. They did not attempt to dispose of the cars, but ran them until the gasoline gave out, when they would pick up another. From their statement it would appear that life had been one continuous joy ride for fourteen days.

Past Grand Knight to Address K. C. Council

Joseph Scott of Los Angeles, past grand knight of the Knights of Columbus of California, is to give an address tonight at the regular meeting of the Glendale council at the clubhouse at 330 East Lomita street.

The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock, and in addition to Mr. Scott's address there will be music by the Sutton trio.

TODAY—England's Premier Publisher, Rothermere, for Business First; Average Journalism His Object.

By DAVID M. CHURCH
For International News Service

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Impassive, unemotional, with a huge dominating face that has a haunting resemblance to that of a Chinese idol—that is Harold Sidney Harmsworth, first Viscount Rothermere, the new czar of England's newspaper world.

Lord Rothermere, unlike his brother, Lord Northcliffe, is not a great newspaperman, but he is a great manufacturer who has drifted into the newspaper world and has acquired property after property, until today he controls a great newspaper combine that speaks to at least 10,000,000 English readers every day in the year.

The Daily Mail Trust is Viscount Rothermere, and the Daily Mail Trust and its sister organizations control the Dailly Mail, Daily Mirror, Evening News, Weekly Dispatch, Sunday Pictorial, Sunday Illustrated, Daily Sketch, Sunday Chronicle, Sunday Herald, Daily Dispatch, Evening Chronicle, Empire News and nearly eighty weekly and monthly periodicals.

Sitting quietly at his desk, always cool and collected, Lord Rothermere operates this great publicity machine as Charles M. Schwab and Judge Gary operate the great steel industries of the United States. Ten million people daily get their news from Lord Rothermere's machine, and another 40,000,000 get entertainment and enlightenment from the periodicals which this great machine grinds out.

This new czar of the English publishing world has an almost insatiable ambition and great power, yet he remains an obscure personality. Few people know Lord Rothermere, and fewer get close to him, but those few know him for a kindly and generous man, a man who is always busy and has little time for the social amenities of life, and a man who demands success and achievements in terms of money, and who gets little or no satisfaction out of journalistic achievement alone.

The Rothermere organization is a business organization, an organization which doesn't demand brilliant or flashy work. Rothermere surrounds himself with men of the average, or a little above, and with these men in his organization he builds papers that are average papers, or a little above. There is none of the spectacular brilliancy about the Rothermere papers that marked the Northcliffe papers. England's greatest journalists probably will never be found in the Rothermere organization. In their stead will be found a collection of highly competent average men who fit into the machine.

Lord Rothermere lost two sons in the war, as well as two very dear friends. The blows dealt by the Germans to Rothermere's affections have never been forgotten, nor will they. The Rothermere press breathes hate for all Germans and all things German.

The great flair that Rothermere has for organization led him into public office during the war. He was made director-general of the army clothing department, and he cleaned up in a most efficient manner the wreckage of a great army clothing scandal. Later Lloyd George promoted Rothermere and made him air minister. Here again Rothermere attempted reorganization along drastic business lines, but he found the red-tape entanglements too great, and he was forced to retire.

Lloyd George and Rothermere were once close co-operators. Of late they have drifted apart. Rothermere could not condone Lloyd George's fiscal policy; he recoiled at what seemed to him to be governmental extravagance. Then Lloyd George veered to a policy that seemed not to be bitterly anti-German, and the anti-German, pro-French Rothermere broke with the little Welshman.

There are some people who profess to believe that Rothermere and Lloyd George will again work together. Perhaps they will, but it will be indirect co-operation. That may be the reason that Lord Rothermere has effected a working arrangement with Lord Beaverbrook, who is known to look upon Lloyd George as not altogether a bad statesman.

As a business man Lord Rothermere needs no counsel or advisers. As a journalist he needs advisers badly, and for the present he seems to have found his adviser in Lovat Fraser, a journalist who writes always in italics. Many of the Rothermere excursions abroad in journalism can be traced to Fraser, who is credited with having created the Rothermere campaign of "Hats Off to France"—a slogan which has brought no end of hostile criticism upon the shoulder of Lord Rothermere.

PRINCESS ACCUSES HER SISTER

Says She Stole Love From Titled Husband

Princess von der Lippe-Lipski

Last June Mrs. Wendell Phillips, socially prominent in the east and head of the Carry-on Association for Disabled Soldiers, revealed that she had been married with religious and civil ceremonies to Prince Nicholas von der Lippi-Lipski. Now she announces through court action that the romance has been blasted. She has sued her sister, Mrs. Gertrude Schroeder, wealthy New York widow, for $100,000 for alleged alienation of prince hubby's affections. The suit followed a raid on Mrs. Schroeder's apartment by the princess and detectives. And asserts that she found Prince Nick there—and the key to the apartment in a pocket of his waistcoat.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Did the wealthy and charming sister of Princess Nicholas von der Lippe-Lipski, lure her royal hubby away from her?

Or did the prince just naturally gravitate toward said sister, Mrs. Gertrude Schroeder.

Or is it all a horrible mistake?

That's what eastern society is wondering as the princess awaits hearing on her suit for $100,000 damages for the alleged alienation of her affections by the aforesaid wealthy and pretty sister.

The princess, it must be made clear, was formerly Mrs. Wendell Phillips, well known in eastern social circles and now head of the Carry On Association for Disabled Soldiers.

The first news of her marriage to the prince, who claims to be directly descended from King Simon of Westphalia, came when the princess announced last June that they had been married by civil ceremony in September, 1922 and by religious ceremony last May. "And we're wonderfully happy," she said then.

But her happiness was short-lived, she now says. Several weeks ago she decided that her sister was tampering with the prince's love. She decided to find out.

The other day, accompanied by detectives, Mrs. Phillips went to her sister's home, broke through a door, and looked around.

She says she didn't see the prince but she found his clothes—and the key to the apartment in the pocket of his vest. Just how the prince escaped as he was dressed is a mystery, she says. She kept the key and clothes as Exhibits A and B.

The sister denies that the prince was in the apartment when Princess Lippe-Lipski entered. He had been there earlier, though, she says frankly—just to inquire as to her health.

The prince says Mrs. Schroeder is right. He explains the presence of the clothes by saying he had left several suits there for safe keeping. That the suit found should have been there at the time doesn't mean that he wore it there or had just—er stepped out of it.

The princess' first husband was Charles Lee Phillips, a chauffer.

With the Women of Today

By MRS. LILIAN CAMPBELL

Mme. Gone Suzuki is considered Japan's greatest business woman and is head of the internationally known firm of Suzuki & Co., with offices all over the world. In 1893 her husband died, leaving her with a small sum of money from his sugar business.

Mme. Suzuki had very definite ideas of an international business, but her first venture failed. Undaunted, she tried again, and now is worth over $65,000,000 and her firm is known and represented all over the world and the home office practically controls every big business in Japan.

Mme. Suzuki is 71 years old, but is still active. An innovation in business which she introduced was the serving of tea and cakes to her employes, a practice which is still carried on.

This grand old woman of business wears a medal wich was presented to her by the Japanese emperor in 199914 for her achievements in the development of international trade for the Flowery Kingdom.

TO MAKE UP OR NOT TO MAKE UP

An artisle in The Woman Citizen of some time ago discussed the matter of magazine advertising on the subject of make-up. The claim was made that advertisers, in order to sell their wares, incline to make young women think that the use of cosmetics is essential to a good appearance. The Woman Citizen goes on to say:

"Good looks are an undoubted asset in the business of life. The obligation is on every woman to be dainty and wholesome in her physical body and as becomingly and fittingly attired as her taste and purse allow. To this end soap, cold cream, lotions and powder have their place. No one can have any objection to the honest advertising of their use. Undoubtedly more faces are washed with soap today and the skin kept healthier by frequent bathing because of advertising.

"Even make-up has its rightful place. Behind the footlights it is used to make one look natural under the artificial light. If it is used in front of the footlights its only justification can be if it makes one look natural, and the test is that no one should suspect you of having it on. Its popular use today allows no one to forget that you are using it.

"The pendulum is bound to swing far in the other direction. It won't be long, we predict, before any use whatever of cosmetics of any kind will be considered bad form, and some advertisers will be in a position of having killed the goose that laid the golden egg."

CHILD LABOR INCREASING

An apparent increase of 38.6 per cent in child labor over the corresponding period of last year was shown in statistics made public recently by the children's bureau of the department of labor covering the first six months of the current year in thirty selected cities.

Dinner Stories

Two New York darkies, hearing how easy was the life of a deckhand on a steamer, signed on, according to Everybody's. After a long hard struggle through rough seas the ship finally headed back to the good old U. S. As they were nearing New York harbor, Sam got to talking to his pal.

"Does you know what I's gwine to do as soon as I gets to Noo Yawk? I's gwine to get me a white hat, an' white shoes, an' some white sox, an' a white suit, an' den I's gwine to get me a white gal, an I's gwine to walk right down de White Way as big as anybody."

"I ain' gwine to do da a-tall," replied Rastus. "I's gwine to get me a black hat, and black shoes and black sox, an' a black gal—"

"What you-all gwine do dat for, nigger?"

"Why, I's gwine to you-all's funeral."

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— By Howard R. Garis —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE EGGS

"Do you like chocolate cake?" asked Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy of Uncle Wiggily one day.

"Oh I am very fond of chocolate cake," answered the rabbit gentleman. "But I'll only take a small slice now." And his pink nose began to twinkle, for speaking of chocolate cake always made him hungry.

Nurse Jane began to laugh.

"What is the joke?" asked Uncel Wiggily, "and where is the chocolate cake?"

"The joke is that there isn't any chocolate cake just yet," said the muskrat lady housekeeper. "If you want one I'll bake it, but I shall need some eggs first."

"Oh, I'll get you the eggs!" offered Uncle Wiggily. "Mrs. Cluck Cluck, the hen lady, who gave me some feathers for my bed, will surely give me eggs for a chocolate cake."

"Yes," spoke Nurse Jane, "I think she will. But be careful, Uncle Wiggily. There is a great difference between carrying eggs and feathers."

"Oh, I know that!" laughed the bunny. "If you drop a bag of feathers it doesn't hurt them. But if you drop a bag of eggs it musses them all up."

"Indeed it does!" said the muskrat lady. "So please be very careful in bringing home the eggs."

Uncle Wiggily promised that he would and then he set off over the fields and through the woods to go to the coop of Mrs. Cluck Cluck, the hen lady.

"Ah I know that chocolate cake will be wonderful when Nurse Jane makes it," thought Uncle Wiggily to himself as he hopped along. Then, all of a sudden, when he was feeling so happy, he heard a sad voice saying:

"Oh, I can't get loose! I can't get loose and I'll be late for school! Oh, dear!"

"Why, that sounds like trouble," whispered the bunny gentleman. "I wonder who it is?"

He looked about and, near a puddle of frozen water, Uncle Wiggily saw Bully No Tail, the boy frog.

"Why, Bully, what's the matter?" asked the rabbit gentleman. "And why do you squat there in-Oh, dear I'll be late for school"

"I'd like to hop but I can't," croaked Bully. "One of my paws is frozen fast on this ice and I can't get loose."

"Oh, that's too bad- How did it happen?" asked the bunny.

"I was going to school," answered Bully, "and when I got to this puddle of water I thought I would see how cold it was. I put my paw in and, all of a sudden the water froze and I'm caught fast. Oh, dear- I'll be late for school!"

"No you will not," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll thaw you loose." The bunny knelt down near where Bully's paw was frozen in the ice. And, by blowing his warm breath on it the bunny melted the ice.

"Hop along now!" called Uncle Wiggily as Bully pulled his paw loose, "and don't do anything like this again."

"No sir, I won't," promised the frog boy, who was soon in school.

Uncle Wiggily hopped along, over the fields and through the woods, and soon he reached the coop of Mrs. Cluck Cluck, the hen lady.

"I would like some eggs so Nurse Jane can make me a chocolate cake," spoke the bunny politely, and the hen lady gave him a dozen in a bag.

"Be careful not to drop them, for they will break easily," she warned him, and Uncle Wiggily said he would. But as he was hopping back home with the eggs, all of a sudden, from behind a bush, the Woozie Wolf jumped out. And Uncle Wiggily was so frightened that he shivered and shook and dropped the bag of eggs, cracking them all.

"Now look what you made me do!" cried the bunny to the Wolf.

"Oh, I am sorry about the eggs," said the Wolf, "but at the same time I am going to nibble your ears."

"Are you? Well, I guess not!" cried the bunny. Then he gave the Wolf a push and the bad chap slipped and fell and sat down right in the puddle of whites and yellows of the broken eggs. And the eggs were so sticky, like fly paper, that they held the Wolf fast and he couldn't get up, pull and twist as he did.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "I'll leave you here a while and go back and get more eggs."

"Oh, jitney cars!" howled the Wolf, but that's all the good it did him. He couldn't get loose to nibble the bunny's ears, and the rabbit hopped away and got more eggs. He didn't drop these and the chocolate cake Nurse Jane made was wonderful.

"Hop along now!" called Uncle Wiggily.

So, we learn, good may come even from dropping eggs. And if the goldfish doesn't splash water in the rubber boots so the sugar spoon gets its face wet, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's jack-o'-lantern.

POEMS That LIVE

COMMONPLACE

"A commonplace life," we say, and we sigh;
But why should we sigh as we say?
The commonplace sun in the commonplace sky,
Makes up the commonplace day;
The moon and the stars are commonplace things,
And the flower that blooms, and the bird that sings;
But dark were the world and sad our lot
If the flowers failed and the sun shone not;
And God, who studies each separate soul,
Out of commonplace lives makes his beautiful whole.

Said the latter: "Well young man, say what you have to say and say it quickly. My time is worth a dollar a minute."

"And so ismine. Here is a wallet you lost yesterday, less pay for an hour's time which I used waiting to see you," the young man replied as he extracted sixty dollars from the wallet.

Now is the time to fight constipation with Bran—Start to-day!

Don't give the diseases that follow in the track of constipation a chance to lodge in your system! Get after constipation with nature's greatest helper—BRAN, Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled—because it is ALL BRAN and because it will give you permanent relief from constipation! It is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation and it will do that.

Bran's action is wonderful. It sweeps and cleanses and purifies. It knocks out the dangerous toxic poisons and frees the system from pollution! Try Kellogg's Bran for a week. Eat it regularly—two tablespoonfuls each day; as much each meal in chronic cases. You will be astounded at the difference in your feelings!

Kellogg's Bran should not be confused with common bran which is unpalatable and difficult to eat. Kellogg's is cooked and all ready to serve and really delicious. Eat it as a cereal, sprinkled over your favorite hot or cold cereal or cook or mix it with hot cereal. In the latter cases add two tablespoonfuls for each person.

Do you realize what Kellogg's Bran can do for you and for your family; do you realize that it will keep sickness away; that it will put every one on a new health footing; that it will free you all from pills and cathartics?

Kellogg's Bran is particularly delightful made in raisin bread, in macaroons, popovers, muffins, etc. Recipes are printed on each package!

You will say that Kellogg's Bran is a blessing to humanity.

All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran!

SPIRITUALITY VS MATERIALITY

Baby's Wardrobe

Last week The Adorable Sockums told you something of his likes and dislikes in regard to his wardrobe, and we gave you a list of clothes that should be ready before the baby comes. Now I shall talk a little about each article.

ABDOMINAL BANDS

The abdominal band is a very important part of the baby's outfit. It is used not only to hold on the navel dressing, but to give warmth and support to the abdominal wall. The first bands are usually soft, unhemmed flannel.

They should be put on snugly enough so they will not roll up, but never so snug that there is not room for the distension that comes after the baby eats, for this will cause colic and discomfort, and also prevent development. A too tight band increases rather than decreases the danger of rupture, by pressing the abdominal contents down on the weak parts of the wall.

The band must not be so wide that it reaches too high under the arms nor must it come down so as to prevent the leg movements. A band 6 inches wide and 20 inches long is a good size. If three or four tapes are sewed on 6 inches from one end and the same number 8 inches from the other end, when the band is around the baby the tapes can be tied and the necessity for sewing or pinning will be done away with. Tie on the side or the front, not over the navel or at the back.

Have four of these bands. They are worn for two weeks or longer. Holt advises the use of flannel bands for two or three months or longer on a thin infant. After this the knitted band should be used. These may be made of silk and cotton or cotton alone. They can be bought already made. The second size is best.

STOCKINGS

While the baby's clothes are long and cover the feet, stockings are not necessary unless there is a tendency for the feet to become cold. Then soft woolen socks should be worn. Later, when the baby has grown and the dresses are shorter for him, the long white merino stockings should be worn. These should be tied with tapes to the diaper. Have at least four pairs.

SHOES

Shoes need not be used until the baby begins to stand on its feet. At first the soft moccasins made with the seams outside are good. Later, when the child begins to walk, a soft kid shoe with a flexible but thicker sole should be worn. Get the broad, hygienic pattern of shoes, at least one size too long.

Do not get shoes with stiffened ankles, even though the baby's ankles seem weak. In this case, massage the feet and ankles every night with some non-irritating oil (olive or sweet oil, or fresh lard, etc.) and be sure you are caring for your baby properly (feeding fresh air, and other hygienic measures) so that the weakness is not a result of rickets.

SHIRTS

Get the shirts of a mixture of silk and cotton, or plain cotton for the normal healthy child, and for the delicate, undersized child a mixture of cotton and wool. For the first few months, and during the winter months, the shirts should have long sleeves and high necks. All wool shirts are not necessary or advisable. They are apt to irritate and they shrink too much to be practical. If the part wool is used, one-fourth wool will do for the summer baby and for the winter baby half wool.

PETTICOATS

Petticoats are best made in the Gertrude style—that is, a princess type with no gathers or bands at any place. They are made without sleeves and fastened on each shoulder with two snap fasteners. It is well to have four Gertrude petticoats made of cotton and wool flannel, and two made of cotton. If it is very hot, the petticoat need not be worn. They should be made a little shorter than the dress. Make the dresses only 22 inches from neck to hem. These won't have to be shortened later. The old fashioned very long, dresses are not desirable.

I will tell you more about baby's wardrobe next Friday.

LIFE DRAMA IN ART CIRCLES

Wife's Temperament Is Cause For Disputes

Mrs. Max Reinhardt (Elsie Heims). Her husband has filed suit for divorce

BERLIN, Nov. 16.—A drama of real life—the life of Elsie Heims—is revealed in the suit for divorce her husband, Max Reinhardt, has started in the Czecho-Slovakian courts. A story of artistic temperament and desire for fame and love will be unfolded when the case is heard.

Reinhardt, in his petition, says that his wife and he disagreed because he refused to allow her to play parts in his productions "for which she was not suited." Her pride was hurt, he says. His refusal to star her finally resulted in her leaving him and claiming support for herself and two children.

But her temperament was not the only bone of discontent. Reinhardt names men in art circles in his petition—men whom he at one time or other called friends.

For her part his wife accuses her husband, who she says lives in royal splendor in a Salsburg castle, of transferring his fortune of many millions of gold marks, to foreign banks and also of diverting the income from his theaters to those banks.

As Elsie Heims Mrs. Reinhardt is known as one of the best tragediennes on the European stage.

BEAUTY CHATS

by EDNA KENT FORBES

THE PERMANENT WAVE

So many extraordinary discoveries are being made of ways to improve the hair and the complexion that I've no doubt but some day the perfect and harmless hair dye will be invented and the perfect cream that will do away with wrinkles.

The permanent wave is, in my opinion, the most extraordinary discovery of its kind in recent times. Properly done it is perfectly harmless, except in some rare conditions of the scalp. In such instances the hairdresser will, or should, refuse to use the treatment.

The old method was to bake or boil the hair after it was first lightly wound and tied on a series of spools. The solution was moistened borax which entered the structure of the hair because of the heat. This caused the cells in each hair shaft to open and stay permanently opened so the hair absorbed humidity and curled exactly as naturally wavy hair curls. It kept this curl, though to a gradually lessening extent, for many months. Naturally the new hair that grew in was straight.

Borax had one drawback, it made the hair dry. With naturally dry hair this was a great disandavtage, for it produced an ugly frizz. With oily hair it didn't matter. But the best establishments are now using oil. Hair specialists talk of specially patented oils. Each has his special kind, but no doubt they are all basically the same.

I have seen the results from the oil wave, and consider them much better than the wave produced by borax. I've also seen the wave produced by the new flat winding, which is more difficult to do than the tight twist that was at first employed. The wave is softer, larger and more natural looking. But permanent waving is an expensive process, and always will be.

Mrs. K.: The preparation you are using on your hair is a dye, but since you must have your hair black I do not see how you can improve on your present method. Henna gives the reddish color, but there are any number of preparations on the market in which henna and a dye are mixed.

Carl O.: Give your skin around the nose astringent treatment every time you bathe the face, and the pores will become refined after a time. Witch hazel, or a drop or two of benzoin in a half pint of water, or just an ice rub, are all simple treatments for coarse pores.

Have you had it done?

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes, in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a junior in the Glendale Union High school. All my friends talk about are the boys they go with. Although I have many boy friends, none has ever asked me for a date or seems to give me more than a passing thought.

I do not care especially for boys, but I always feel out of place when I am with my girl friends. Please advise me as to what to do so that I can enter into their fun. LONESOME.

If you do not care especially for boys, you should not force yourself to gain their attention nor feel badly because they don't ask you for dates. You are, perhaps, much better off, and when the proper time comes you will care deeply for someone and the feeling will be returned.

It seems a pity that your girl friends talk about nothing but boys. It is no wonder you feel out of place in such company. I suggest you begin making girl friends elsewhere as the group you are now attempting to associate with is altogether too much occupied with boys.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: My daughter is thirteen years old and so disobedient that I can do nothing with her. I tell her to do something and she says that she will not do it. For about a year I tried to make her obedient by being kind to her, but instead of getting better she got worse. Then I tried to break her by the deprivation method and I have not used a stick or anything to punish her. I haven't even slapped her. Since I tried this method she has grown worse and worse. Now I have decided not to spare the rod. What should I whip her with, a stick, cane, hair brush or strap?

WORRIED ANNIE

Your letter shows a lack of understanding and sympathy for your daughter. The wise parent has no desire to break the child's spirit and will, but aims to direct along the right channels. Nine times out of ten when a parent fails to get obedience it is because she is inconsistent, showing too much leniency at one time and too much discipline at another. Another failing is to threaten and not carry out the threat, or nag and punish because of the least offense.

Personally I think very few children need to be whipped into obedience. The deprivation method is just as much a punishment and is apt to be more distasteful to the child because its effect stretches over a greater length of time.

One method of whipping seems to me just as bad as another, and therefore I would advise you to choose your own weapon if you resort to that method of punishment. I believe you will get further with your child, however, if you try to understand her better and show more sympathy in her activities. She has some reason for her actions, and it would be advisable for you to question her and find why she did such a thing. Also ask her to tell you why she fails to obey you and how she feels after she has been punished. You may learn that she feels great antagonism toward you and believes you do not love her.

The up-to-date housekeeper keeps a card-index file for her recipes. And gradually the sections for "Soups," "Meats," "Vegetables," "Desserts," and other dishes grow plump with added receips. Here are a few more to paste on the cards:

Potato Dumplings: Boil eight peeled potatoes with one quart of salted water till done, then mash well. Add one tablespoon of butter, mix and let stand till cold. Now add two heaping tablespoons of flour and the yolks of three eggs to the cold potatoes, and form the mixture into little balls the size of an egg. Roll these in flour and toss them into a large saucepan containing boiling, salted water. Let the water continue to boil for ten minutes, during which time keep the pot-cover on. Remove them with a skimmer and serve at once.

Baked Bananas: Strip off one-third of the skin of each banana and loosen the remainder of the skin around the fruit by means of a spoon. Place the bananas in a baking pan with the stripped side up, and put bits of butter on each. Sprinkle each with one teaspoon of water and bake for 20 minutes in a good oven. These are very nourishing. Serve hot, in the skins.

Orange Pudding: Peel three large oranges, slice them thin and remove seeds. Line a pudding dish with them, and dust over with one cup of sugar. Now beat two egg-yolks with one tablespoon of dry cornstarch and two tablespoons of sugar; add a pinch of salt and pour it into one pint of boiling milk, stirring constantly. As soon as it thickens, remove it from the fire and let cool. Then spread the custard over the oranges in the dish. Beat two egg-whites stiff with three tablespoons of sugar, and spread them over the custard as a meringue; slip the dish into a moderate oven for a few minutes, till the meringue is brown. Serve cold. This is a splendid dessert for children.

Baked Eggs Marie: Beat four egg-whites till stiff, with a pinch of salt, then spread them on a buttered platter. Make little holes in the froth, here and there, and drop the four unbroken, raw eggs into these holes. Slip the dish in a slow oven to bake until the whites are a delicate brown. This is a good way to serve eggs to a person who is tired of eating them in the ordinary ways.

JOURNAL authorities, back from Paris, brought the latest styles—also some delightful Parisian novelties you will want to copy for unique Christmas presents. They'll be pictured in for December, with directions how to make them. Different lamp shades, cunning dolls, belts, dainties for the bureau—the tariff would make them extravagant if imported. You can make them so reasonably it will surprise you.

Of course, that is only one feature in this splendid Christmas issue. I wish I could tell you about Sarah Addington's Christmas story, and William Lyon Phelps' beautifully illustrated study, "The First Christmas." You'll want to show and read them to the kiddies. Then there are The Gimmicks, the gayest folk you ever knew, who live in the eaves, on roofs and chimneys too!

Don't forget, either, that "Worldly Goods," Sophie Kerr's great new novel, starts in December and will be published complete in four issues. A phone call or card to me today will get you this and 12 big issues for $1.

Hotel Man to Fight Million Dollar Suit

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 16.—Scott W. Alexander, hotel man of Long Beach, is preparing to contest the suit for $1,000,000 damages filed against him by the Southern Counties Gas Company of California as a result of a campaign in the beach city to vote bonds for a municipal gas plant.

Alexander, who was a leader in the campaign for the bonds, was alleged by the corporation to have caused a letter, signed by him, to be printed in a Long Beach newspaper and which the company asserted was false and untrue and injured its credit and financial standing.

COMMENT That's All

Somebody Is Careless
Deadly, Costly Traffic
Have You Registered?
Kirk and His Travels

By Gil A. Cowan

Hardly a day passes without a traffic toll here. Sometimes the victims are fortunate enough to escape slightly maimed. Indeed, a mere crash nowadays commands no news space, but if someone dies it is a feature story. Usually it is some careless person who causes the catastrophe—and seldom are they found guilty.

It may be the mechanic, who has not properly adjusted some part of the car. It may be the owner, who has been penny wise and pound foolish in not having his car repaired with new brakes, adequate and legal lights, or something or other.

Traffic is deadly and very costly, comments the Pasadena Star-News editor, who adds:

"The traffic peril is most dreadful and alarming because of the number of human being killed or maimed. This is the chief consideration in striving to abate the great hazard. But there is the economic side to be considered also. There is the millions of dollars outrightly lost in machines and other properties destroyed or damaged in traffic. And there is the economic value of the human beings crippled so that they become an economic liability, rather than an asset.

"Chicago had 31,604 automobile accidents on its streets during the year 1922, and from these it is estimated the material loss was more than $13,500,000. This year the losses will be greater. This hazard extends to every city, town and village in the land. No place is immune. Wherever there is travel, there are serious accidents.

"It is utterly impossible wholly to eliminate the perils of traffic. But it is possible greatly to minimize them. To this work of saving lives and property through greater care in driving careful persons everywhere should apply themselves. Everyone can say or do something, in some way, to better traffic conditions."

Have you registered? If you desire to vote for the sewer bonds on January 8 it behooves you to be rightly registered. If you have moved since you last registered, if you are a newcomer and qualified, come to The Glendale Evening News office any week day evening from 4 to 8 o'clock and register. It is your duty to vote on this important issue, therefore see to it that you will not be challenged at the polls. Again we urge you to REGISTER.

Travelogues by W. B. Kirk are proving one of the most delightful features The Glendale Evening News has had the pleasure of printing. It is not in their style, or their descriptiveness, but in the perfectly human viewpoint that the value of these letters lies.

In the description of the trains of the continental countries as well as the hotels, the streets, the people, the art, not to forget the weather, one gets an insight that is entirely different than the pen pictures of Frank Carpenter, for instance.

Mr. Kirk does not color his articles. He simply states things as he finds them. Also, in reference to a series of German letters which will appear in forthcoming issues, he truthfully writes us: "I shall speak only good of them and avoid the censor." A good idea, Mr. Kirk.

What if the whole world only spoke good of one another? It might not be such an exciting place, but we would have a whole lot less friction.

And what if we thought only good things about one another? Wouldn't it work wonders between France and Germany? Perhaps.

But it is human nature to be otherwise.

And that's all there is to that.

Poultry Expert Uses Most Modern Methods

Modern methods in the raising of poultry are the factors that have formed the foundation of the success attained by Charles Stein, 1214 East Broadway, in the four years that he has been engaged in this business in Glendale.

Mr. Stein is a graduate of the American School of Poultry Husbandry, Kansas City, Mo., and also of Tulane University, New Orleans, La.

The experimental poultry farm that he conducts has proven of immense benefit to his many clients, at whose disposal he places the knowledge that he has gained in the years that he has been engaged in this work. Mr. Stein uses the Hoganized method of culling poultry, so that the flocks under his care contain no "boarders," and he favors the feeding of bran and stale bread, moistened with buttermilk, to force egg production in pullets.

The Stein establishment contains a complete layout for the small poultry raiser, and he specializes on the rotation of feeding yards with plenty of green stuff.

Public baths, during Nero's time, were fitted with courts, wine rooms, restaurants, lounges and organs.

HENRY T. HUNT

Henry T. Hunt, former mayor of Cincinnati, O., has just been advised that the Far Eastern Exploration Company, which he heads, has been granted by the soviet republic, a gold mining concession in Eastern Siberia, estimated at a value of $5,000,000. Gen. William S. Graves, who commanded the Siberian expedition in 1919, is one of the men interested in the company with Hunt.

Gas Well Flowing at 100 Million Feet Daily

FORT COLLINS, Colo., Nov. 16.—The enormous gas well brought in at Wellington, north of here, continues to flow at a rate of 100,000,000 cubic feet a day, and many oil experts visiting the scene declared that the volume may exceed this amount. The gas is bringing up from the bottom of the hole, 4,285 feet below the surface, large pieces of rock and debris which have battered the derrick timbers, and the bullet-like velocity with which the fragments are coming up has caused officials of the Union Oil Company to throw a cordon around the well to prevent injury to crowds of curious onlookers.

Summon Klan Leader Into Oklahoma Court

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 16.—A summons directed to N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, to appear before the Walton impeachment court has been issued by the defense. An officer was trying to find Jewett.

Jewett was ordered to bring the membership rolls of the Oklahoma Klan to court as well as all other records of the hooded organization.

It was another Walton coup and it was hoped by the defense by this method to prove Klan membership of several of the impeachment court and house of representatives.

Pound Sterling Hits Low Level of $4.32 1-2

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Dropping to $4.32½, the pound sterling yesterday reached the lowest quotation in the New York stock exchange since March, 1922. The drop was attributed by bankers to London reports that inflation might be resorted to as a means of stimulating trade revival and reducing unemployment.

HEAD OF WOMEN'S CLUB IS GUEST

Federation President Views Clubhouse Erected by Glendale Women

Glendale received added honor yesterday afternoon following the club gathering in Los Angeles, when Mrs. Thomas Gerald Winter, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, motored to Glendale with Mrs. Charles H. Toll and visited the Tuesday Afternoon club house, which she complimented most highly.

Receiving her at the clubhouse were Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, members of the board of directors and other club members.

She expresed herself as particularly pleased with the clubhouse arrangement, finishing and furnishing, with the palm court and the additional ground enlarging the clubhouse site.

In bidding her farewell the Tuesday Afternoon club women presented her with one of the club year books and a piece of hand-painted china made by a member of the Arts and Crafts Section.
